Plan, Build, Develop and Manage Your Network the Easy Way
Best-of-class solutions that fit every organization

For 25 years, businesses around the world have utilized CDI to design, build and operate an automated and secure multi-cloud infrastructure foundation that accelerates the journey to digital business. We can help your organization build and ship applications faster, respond more quickly to uncertain market conditions, and spend more time running your business – not IT infrastructure.

Software production always stuck in development? Increase productivity with Automation & DevOps Services

Time to market is the name of the game. We offer a comprehensive list of Automation & DevOps services that can help your organization unlock your developer's productivity while simultaneously managing cost and risk.

Incorporate ServiceNow with Local Industry Experts

Organizations around the world want to streamline their IT operations so that they can focus on their core business. Having a strong, multi-disciplined approach to IT is paramount – and ServiceNow is the perfect tool to manage IT operational events across your organization.

CDI's local team of experts (no offshore call center) can get you up and running in no time while your team pushes your business forward.

Security for The New World

Security threats are growing exponentially, and you cannot wait any longer to secure your network. We believe that security must be incorporated into the very fabric of an organization, and as such, we need to constantly challenge our customers to prepare themselves for the latest threats and regulatory requirements.

Our portfolio covers the entire technology management lifecycle – Identify, Protect, Detect, Respond and Recover.

Orchestrate automated tasks across complex distributed systems to achieve improved customer experiences and valuable business outcomes.

Traditional processes can present challenges when introducing automation. We work with your teams to engineer processes that are optimized for automation, avoiding the dreaded "garbage in, garbage out" situation.

We help distributed development teams integrate, test, and release their software production with increased velocity by streamlining and automating the entire process.

CDI can help you select, implement, and integrate an end-to-end DevOps toolchain from source code repositories through testing, security, and release.

We work with your teams to deploy and lifecycle infrastructure with software engineering methods, ensuring infrastructure is as easy to deploy as possible.

Cloud management platforms provide a consistent control plane across and management experience for both public and private cloud infrastructure.
